WORSHIPING SERVING, FELLOWSHIPING

WELCOME VISITORS!
Thank you for joining us today to worship the Lord.

If this is your first visit here, please honor us by filling out a visitor's card found on the back of each pew. Your prayer requests may also be made on the flip side of the card. At the close of service you can hand it to any member, place it in the contribution box at the front of the auditorium or simply leave it in the pew and we will collect it.

During the service we will celebrate communion. (Sacraments are available on the table in the entry foyer.) This is a time that we partake of unleavened bread and juice from the fruit of the vine to remind us what Jesus has done for us. Communion is not only about Jesus' death, but his resurrection and triumph over death and sin. His resurrection is the source of our hope that God will fulfill his promise of eternal life through Jesus the Christ.

MALAWI UPDATE

Samantha Jewell

So much has happened since we last saw you. We pray all is well in your part of the world, and we want to share some of what's happening in ours. John is the VP of Student Life at York University, which he expertly balances with his role as director over the ministry in Malawi. Jonah is in the Army in North Carolina, Andy is finishing his first year of college, and Ben is planning to begin dual credit high school courses at the university in the fall. I have been doing my best to make a home for us, as I assist the ministry in Malawi and communicate its progress to our friends and supporters here.

We're happy to report that God has blessed this ministry beyond anything we could have imagined. HUGS for Tomorrow* has official non-profit status with the US government, and the village school in Africa has been accredited by the Malawian government. We have established preschool through second grade and feed over 100 kids daily. We own eight acres, six of which is dedicated to food production. That alone offsets the cost of the program by twenty percent, which means the school is already partially self-sufficient even before it's completely developed. For $200 we are able to feed one child two meals a day for six months—even with the skyrocketing cost of grain. In short, your donations are going towards an extremely efficient pursuit. God has been very good to us.

Our family is planning a trip to Malawi this summer. We have been back in the United States since the pandemic three years ago. Snoden and Susan have asked for us to come, and we feel the need to stay personally in touch with them and with the children in the program. We also plan to bring supplies for the school and to finally pick up the personal effects we left behind in 2020. If all goes as planned we should have enough new photos to overwhelm your social media time, which brings me to my last bit of news. We will be rolling out a HUGS for Tomorrow Web site, Facebook page, and Instagram page very shortly in an effort to keep you better informed and to give you an easy way to share what we do with your friends. If you aren't sure whether you will be included in our updates, please send your contact information to us at hugs4tomorrow@yahoo.com.

We can't thank you at Westworth Church of Christ enough for your love and support in caring for some of the most marginalized children in the world. You believed in this mission long before it was conceived. We dream of the day when these children will be grown and equipped for God's service because of our joint efforts. We pray blessings over them and over you as we all partake in this beautiful Kingdom work.

**HUGS for Tomorrow was the name selected as the official non-profit status was established. Donations to the mission are still accepted by Westworth and all donated funds are applied to the work in Malawi.*
